LIMA BEATEN IN FIGHT FOR 1924 ARMORY

This City Will Get One of Six Contemplated for 1925

ANNOUNCEMENT IS OFFICIAL

Governor Approves Unanimous Advisory Board Decree

Lima will not get a new armory this year.

Authoritative announcement to that effect was made Friday by Adj. Gen. Frank D. Henderson, according to advices from Columbus.

However, this city is one of six named for preference for armories in 1925 or later. The list, in addition to Lima, includes Canton, Belpre, Washington, C. H. Findlay and Mansfield, not necessarily in the order named. Lima may be the first, and may also be the last to obtain a building.

However, it is believed this city and Clinton will be the first to witness building operations, for the reason each maintains three or more military units, and proper housing facilities are not afforded.

ITIES PREFERRED

London, to get a $40,000 structure; Youngstown, a $100,000 armory, and Ravenna, a $40,000, have been recommended for preference over the armories to be built out of the current armory fund appropriation in the order named. Each city named has provided a site and in addition, Youngstown has used $15,000 to match $55,000 state funds.

Lima and five other cities named have been recommended to be first considered as locations for armories in future building programs, contingent upon the continuance of said organizations.

It had been hoped, and confidently expected, that Lima would be named in the list for preference this year, and while there has been considerable information loosed along that line, the statement that this city must wait at least another year is authoritative, having come from the office of the adjutant general to parties interested directly in the project here.

VOTE UNANIMOUS

The recommendations were made by unanimous vote of the armory advisory board, consisting of the commanding officer of the 35th division and of each brigade and regiment of the Ohio National Guard, which formally met Jan. 21, for the purpose of recommending to the adjutant general the priority of building of armories throughout the state, setting up claims previously presented by representatives from chambers of commerce.

Present conditions actuated the board to take action in behalf of the cities mentioned. However, any recommendation is subject to withdrawal and substitution of another in event of failure to maintain efficient organizations, or in event of suitable quarters becoming available previous to the building of a state armory.

ADDO APPROVES

Adj. Gen. Henderson states that these recommendations are the result of a policy initiated by the department, meets the approval of the treasury and will establish a precedent that is expected to control all future allotment of armories for the Ohio National Guard.

The Prince of Wales is in command of headquarters, and First Lt. Paul H. Runyan in command of Headquarters company of the 2nd Battalion, Capt. Neil R. Poling commands Battery D, 135th Field Artillery, and Capt. William V. Daley, Company D, 148th Infantry.

DECISIVE BATTLE IN MEXICO BELIEVED NEAR

MEXICO CITY.—Tierra Blanca, state of Vera Cruz, it is believed in official circles, will be the scene of the last important battle in the federal campaign against the city of Vera Cruz which has been in the hands of the rebels since the outbreak of the revolution.

The rebels are reported concentrating at Tierra Blanca.

The federal march against Vera Cruz, owned partly to the destruction of a bridge, and to a desire on the part of General Martínez to avoid the danger of a rebel attack on his rear.

The whereabouts of General Adolfo de la Huerta, who with other rebel leaders left Vera Cruz via steamer early this week, still are unknown here.

HEIR TO BRITISH THRONE INJURED

Prince's Collar Bone is Broken
When Horse Falls

LONDON—(Associated Press)—The Prince of Wales broke his collar bone while exercising one of his hunters at Billington-Manor, near Ascot, this morning.

The prince was putting his mount over a fence when the horse fell, throwing his rider heavily on his shoulder. The prince got up and was remounting with difficulty when his equerry said:

"I believe you've broken your collar bone."

"Yes, I have," Wales replied. The Prince was taken to the surgery at Leighton Buzzard where he received treatment, and was driven back to Mentmore Mansion. He wore no collar when he emerged from the surgery and his shoulder was in bandage, but he was still smiling.

The Prince of Wales is a great lover of horse flesh and has frequently been thrown, but has always escaped serious injury. In addition to following the hounds, the heir to the British throne is keen on racing, both on the flat and over the jumps, and has taken part in actual competition against professional jockeys, although with indifferent success.

A London dispatch on Tuesday told of his rising at an early hour and motoring to Epsom Downs, the historic British race course, where he looked over the horses entered for the forthcoming meet, and engaged in impromptu races with the jockeys.

The Prince of Wales had 18 hunters at Leighton Buzzard and was expecting to do much hunting with the Waddow Chase hounds. He had gone over to Mentmore Mansion with Lord Delmenhorst, prior to the meet at the Waddow Chase this morning at Ascot. He was astir early, taking several hunters over to Billington Manor, the property of Sir Richard Cooper, to give them a preliminary gallop. It was while putting his mount over a stiff fence that the accident happened.

The prince probably will return to London today. An official statement says the collar bone was broken "about as lightly as possible."

BOY SHOT IN LEG WHEN HIS REVOLVER EXPLODES

Forrest Miller, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, of 216 N. Central, was shot in the leg Thursday night when a revolver he was carrying in his pocket accidentally exploded.

The boy had been sent to deliver a washing to the home of his sister and was returning to his home when the accident occurred. The wound is not serious.

FAMILY ROW COMPLAINTS KEEP LOCAL POLICE BUSY

Police Office J. P. Kait Friday morning answered a "family row" call from Mrs. E. R. Lawson, colonel, 229 S. Pierce-st, who asked for protection from alleged threats.

The woman told police that relatives of her husband have constantly abused her and Friday morning she was forced scantly attired to take refuge at the home of a neighbor.

Terms Made Following Attack on Sinclair Lease, Witness Says

MAY INVOLVE $1,000,000

Newspaper Man Given Teapot
Dome Land, He Asserts

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON—(Associated Press)—After a disagreement among its members over the trend taken by the oil inquiry, the senate oil committee decided today to defer until Monday its examination of William G. McAdoo.

WASHINGTON—(United Press)—Fred G. Bonfils, publisher of the Denver Post, told the senate committee investigating the oil scandal today that he has a secret Teapot Dome contract with Harry F. Sinclair, lessee of that naval reserve. Sinclair already has paid him $250,000, Bonfils said.

Under the contract Sinclair must soon pay $1,000,000 if he wishes to drill certain acreage in Teapot Dome.

"Sometime after the Teapot Dome lease was signed, an acquaintance of mine, Leo Stack, showed me a contract he had," Bonfils said. "He claimed it was a prior contract and that the Sinclair lease had been granted over his head."

"I had my attorney look over Stack's contract and thought it legal. So I entered a contract with Stack, under which we were to give him the first $50,000 and he would divide the remainder between my partner and my attorney.

INVESTIGATION MADE

"I heard a good many rumors so I concluded to send a man to New Mexico to investigate."

"I sent Mr. Stackelback (a reporter) and he came back with an astounding story. He was cautioned especially, not to disclose his identity or to quote these from whom he obtained the story.

"The managing editor, Mr. Shepard, and I, talked it over with Mt. Bottoms, my counsel. We decided the articles should not be printed because they were libelous.

"We then ran a long article attacking the Sinclair lease under the most conspicuous caption we had. "Mr. Zevely, Sinclair's attorney, came out to see us and invited us to New York to see Mr. Sinclair. I was about July 1, 1922, when we went to see Mr. Sinclair. Mr. Sinclair told us brusquely, 'I don't know why you came here, so we went back to Colorado.'

STUT BROUGHT

"In the meantime, we had brought suit against the Midwest Oil Co. and other companies to carry out our contract with Stack.

"Later, we met Sinclair in Oklahoma City and made a contract by which he was to pay us $250,000 and give us 320 acres of land in the Teapot Dome. This was because of our claim thru the Stack contract.

"Sinclair said later he would operate our acreage because he didn't want any one else besides him drilling there. We refused to do that.

"So finally, we decided to let him have 18 months to decide whether he wanted to pay $1,000,000 to us for our share."

"We paid us the original $250,000 of which $50,000 went to Stack. I got $43,000 and my partner got $43,000."

"Mr. Schwartz, our attorney, got about $15,000. Then Stack got $43,000 more for his pro-rata share."

Bonfils' statement accounted for $194,000. He did not say where the remainder of the $250,000 went.

"The 18 month will expire March 15, this year," he continued.

The Stack contract with Edward L. Doheny, by which Stack claimed priority, was read.

Then the Stack contract with the Pioneer Oil Co., releasing Doheny from the first contract, was read.

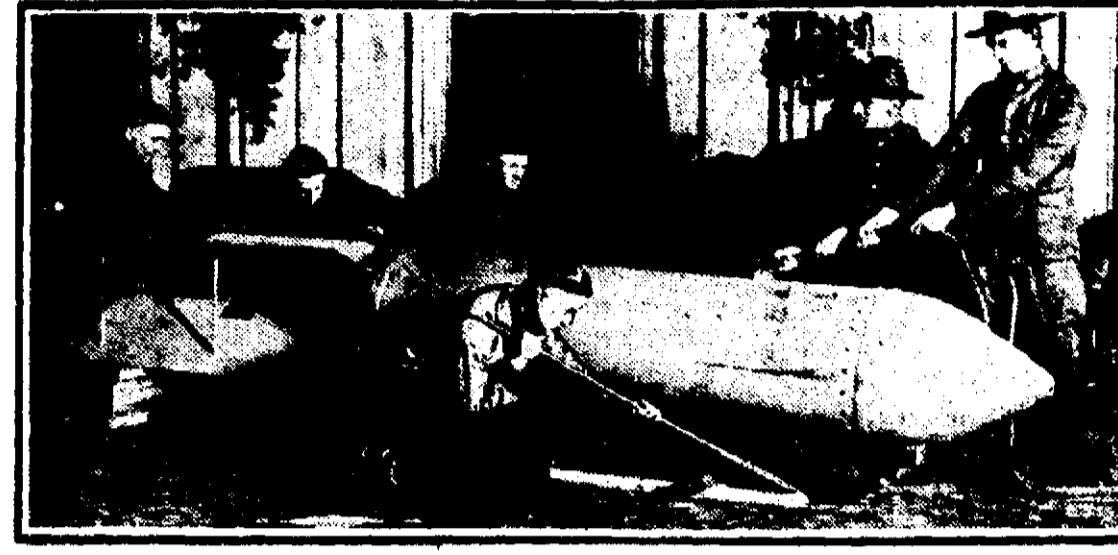

Under its provisions, the Pioneer Oil Co. was to be given some privilege to drill off-set wells.

Decision to hear the former secretary of the treasury in the Wilson administration was reached today by relatives.

The woman told police that relatives of her husband have constantly abused her and Friday morning she was forced scantly attired to take refuge at the home of a neighbor.

Mystery Surrounds Slaying of Louise Carson

BODY IS FOUND BY MAID

Victim's Hands Spread Eagled and Tied to Bed Posts

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—Bound to the posts of her bed and with her mouth gagged, Miss Louise Larson, a 24-year-old motion picture actress, was found dead in her fashionable apartment house in West Seventy-Seventh-st.

The actress' hands had been "spread eagled" and tied to the bed post with a dog's leash. Her Belgian police dog was found lashed to a chair in another room of her apartment.

The body was discovered by a negro maid who went to the apartment to prepare breakfast for the actress.

The police said the murder must have occurred after 8:30 o'clock this morning as the tenant of an adjoining apartment said she had heard Miss Larson's bell rung several times at that hour. To the girl's query the caller replied that he was an expressman. The door was opened, the tenant said, and the caller apparently entered. Nothing more was heard.

The body was attired only in a night gown. A portion of the towel about the woman's head had been stuffed into her mouth and it had been fastened to the sides of her head with adhesive tape.

Conrad Frank Smith returned to his room Thursday night, apparently in good spirits and did not complain of feeling ill. He went to his room about 9 o'clock, connected a rubber hose to his gas jet, placed the head in his mouth and wrapped his head in a night shirt. He then laid down on the bed, leaving an electric light burning.

A nurse, employed in the home to care for DeVault's invalid wife, was attracted by strange noises from the room and the odor of gas and notified neighbors. They broke in the door but he was dead when they reached him.

DeVault was born in Vinton, Ohio, July 6, 1860, and in addition to the widow, is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Edward Randall, 813 S. Metalcraft.

Short funeral services will be held Friday at 4 p.m. at the residence of Rev. D. H. Kelly, pastor of Grace M. E. church, will officiate. The body will be accompanied to McArthur, O., Saturday morning, where burial will take place.

Attitude of the public regarding the yearly program of the Board of Commerce is to be obtained by questionnaires to be sent out in the near future.

Business interest of leading mercantile establishments and problems dealing with improved shipping facilities and other vital questions paramount for prosperity of Lima have been outlined by the Board of Commerce but additional information is to be secured before any definite program is to be outlined. James E. Morton, manager, announced Friday.

Cooperation with city commissioners in completion of Main-st paving is promised Thursday by the executive committee of the Board of Commerce at weekly session.

A committee is to be appointed to work hand in hand with city officials and loan any moral support necessary for completion of improvements, it was decided at the meeting.

Resolution authorizing the City bank to dispose of $200,000 worth of building bonds was unanimously passed Thursday night at special session of the board of education.

Legislative action culminated in a sequence to objections by bank officials to the original resolution adopted Aug. 7 last which made the local bank a depository for the non-transferable bonds, which felt the effects of market fluctuations and held bank officials to probably financial losses.

They posted bonds of $1000 each for their appearance Saturday at 10 a.m. in criminal court.

One pint and a gallon jug containing the drink were found, and several pint bottles which had contained liquor, police said.

Officers Cook, Laughlin, Kipker, Taylor, and Lawlor conducted the raid.

WITHDRAW OFFER

NEW YORK—Directors of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company today voted to withdraw the recent offer to stockholders to subscribe to the capital stock of the Pan-American Western Petroleum Company which was recently organized to develop the California naval oil leases.

Minnie Battzell, Naud Potter, David Hackendorf, Charles McNeil, Margaret Roberts, Bonnie Payne, and Hazel Kimmie are defendants.

The petition recites that some property named in the will has been sold since the instrument was drawn and asks the court to make a redistribution among the heirs.

ASSAILANT KILLS HIMSELF

Clyde Sawyer Becomes Enraged at Former Housekeeper

Intrigued by the fact that his housekeeper had married and intended moving to Lima, Clyde Sawyer, 48, a widower, shot and killed himself at his home in Galion late Thursday. Before his act, he is said to have fired two shots at Mrs. Roy Baker, the woman who is to move to Lima, when attempts to persuade her to stay and keep house for him and his mother, Mrs. C. A. Reynolds, had failed.

MARRIAGE OPPOSED

Mrs. Baker had been keeping house for Sawyer and his mother until she decided to marry and move to Lima. Sawyer opposed this move on her part and, it is said, tried to force her to remain in Galion.

After completing her plans to come to Lima, Mrs. Baker returned to Sawyer's home to procure clothing and furniture. Sawyer met her on the staircase and argued with her. He insisted that she remain with them.

When she refused to accede to his request, he fired two shots at her, one passing thru her hat. When he attempted to make a further attack on her she and his mother fled to a neighbor's home.

U. S. FLIGHT TO BE EPOCHAL TRIP

Pilots to Take Cloud Trail 'Round World Venture

NO COMPETITION AIMED AT

America Seeks Signal Honor in Aeronautic Science

(By A. L. BRADFORD) (Copyrighted, 1924, by United Press)

WASHINGTON.—The American army is determined to win for the United States, birthplace of aeronautics, one of the greatest honors within the grasp of the science of the air: a successful around-the-world flight by airplane.

Launching into this during endeavor, the army now is completing arrangements for the final signal that will end four Douglas world-cruiser airplanes—the type of plane that has been selected—into the clouds next spring in the attempt to capture this prize.

NO RACE INTENDED

While that around-the-world flight is in its first stages, the giant U. S. navy dirigible Shenandoah will begin its epochal voyage to the North pole, but both the army and the navy are approaching these epochal trips in peaceful explorations, not as sensational games of exploit; so there will be no element of competition in the flights.

We are out to make a successful flight around the world, not to win a place in the army's day, war, social and official, prevails to such an extent it is calculated that more than 2,000,000 calling cards are handed out by the visitors of this odd custom. Officials leave cards on all their superiors; ladies call on the diplomatic body and the leaders of society, and men are supposed to at least leave a card on all women friends.

NAMED FOR CITIES

To increase this interest on the part of the public in the around-the-world voyage of their army's planes, the air service here plans to christen each of the four planes after the cities or states in the main sections of the United States.

Practical purposes of the flight are numerous. Added experience in long-distance flying, and particularly in supply problems connected therewith, will be gained. There will be the problems of completing a flight around the world in the shortest practicable time and of demonstrating the feasibility of establishing an airway around the world. Valuable information on the difficulties of operating aircraft in different climates also will be obtained.

The flight will start probably from Washington about the middle of March. The other will "hop off" from Seattle about the first of April. The itinerary of the flight has been arranged with the object of dodging the raining seasons in the United States and India and assuring the passage of the flyers thru Iceland and Greenland during August and September. The following route has been tentatively decided upon:

LINE OF FLIGHT

From Seattle, fly northward along the coast of Canada and southern Alaska; across the Aleutian Islands; down thru the possessions of Japan; along the shore of China, French Indo-China, Siam and Burma; across India; up the Persian Gulf; across Turkey and Europe to England; thence north HEAD STUFFED BY CATARRH OR COLD?

If your nostrils are clogged, your throat distressed, or your head is stupefied by nasty catarrh or a cold, apply a little pure, antiseptic, germ-destroying cream into your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage, soothing inflamed, swollen membranes and you get instant relief.

How good it feels. Your nostrils are open. Your head is clear. No more hawking, sniffling, dryness or straining for breath. Get a small bottle of E. C. C. Balm from any druggist. Colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed up. Relief is sure.—Adv.

thru the Faroe Islands to Iceland; thence to Greenland and southward along the eastern shore to Cape Farewell, Greenland, from which point a direct flight will be made to Hamilton Inlet on the Labrador Coast; thence southward along the Canadian shore and up the St. Louis River to Quebec and Montreal, whence the flight will proceed triplantly to Washington.

The state department here has successfully concluded negotiations to secure permission from the different nations thru which the route passes for the army fliers to pass over their territory and land if necessary. Supplies now are being shipped from the United States to various points on the route. The flight has been divided into six divisions—from Washington to Attu Island in the Aleutian group; to Nagasaki, Japan; to Calcutta, India; to Constantinople; to Hull, England; to Washington.

HONOLULU, T. H.—Ira C. Sparks, of Peru, Ind., who arrived here a year ago after having imprisoned himself in a packing box condemned as "freight" has continued his journey to the Holy Land to seek the true word of God. He left here in a 23-foot sail boat, the Dauntless, which waterfront habitues say will fit his coffin.

Sparks built his boat himself, being a carpenter by trade. "They say this craft will be my coffin," he said, just before leaving, "but I am not afraid. I have a message from God. I am on my way to the Holy Land to seek the true word of God. When I have been given the message, I will give it to the world."

ROME BUSY CALLING

ROME.—The custom of paying calls, in Rome on New Year's day, the social and official, prevails to such an extent it is calculated that more than 2,000,000 calling cards are handed out by the visitors of this odd custom. Officials leave cards on all their superiors; ladies call on the diplomatic body and the leaders of society, and men are supposed to at least leave a card on all women friends.

New Lamp Burns 94% Air

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 25 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (kerosene oil).

The inventor, G. M. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 day's FREE trial to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without expenses or money, make $250 to $500 per month.

WARRANT OUT FOR NICKY ARNSTEIN

Charged With Wire Tapping Swindle at Youngstown

ARREST IS EXPECTED SOON

Pastor is Taken in Connection With Case

CLEVELAND — (United Press)

—Arrest of Jules P. "Nicky" Arnstein, central figure in the $5,000,000 bond theft investigation in New York four years ago, and now sought on a warrant charging him with obtaining $45,000 in a wire tapping swindle in Youngstown in July, 1922, is expected momentarily, New York police said yesterday.

Warrants were issued late yesterday for Arnstein, Charles "Punk" Drucker, alleged confidence man, Drucker's lawyer, of Boswell, Pa., and friends of Arnstein in the New York bond theft investigation and three others.

Police Chief Kedge Powell informed New York after the warrants were issued that police in Cleveland, New York, Washington, Buffalo and Chicago are alerting Arnstein and Drucker.

The warrants were obtained by Alvin K. Kasherick, foreign exchange dealer, of Boswell, Pa., who asserted that he and his brother-in-law, Leo Lutzky, Jewelers, were swindled out of the money thru the manipulation of a fake brokerage house.

Kasherick swore to the affidavits after he identified newspaper photographs of Arnstein and Drucker as being those of the two men who operated the alleged swindle.

Police Inspector Jenkins of Lawrence went to Warren and picked up two Warren residents and later arrested Rev. Nicholas Podusky, said to be pastor of Russian orthodox church there, on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses. He was brought to Youngstown and his ball set was seized.

Shortly after the arrest of the pastor, Detective Peardinan and Thomas, of Youngstown, arrested Morris, the chauffeur, on a charge of conspiracy. His ball was also set aside.

The other warrant is for a man who is said to be an important cog in the swindle. He is still at large. Morris' conviction in the Wall street swindle was confined to a trial in the district court of appeals in Washington for conspiracy by bringing the proceeds from the bond swindle into the District of Columbia. He was sentenced at the time two years with penitentiary and fine.

ARRESTED ON PHONE.

Kasherick told Youngstown police yesterday Podusky had called him on telephone and said he wanted him to meet a friend, employed at a Pittsburgh brokerage concern. The man told him he had a sure way of making money.

He said when they went to Youngstown Podusky introduced them to two men. The men were identified as Charles Brown and James Burdette, he said. These men, sought by police to have been Kasherick and Arnstein.

Podusky said Burdette was represented as a broker, while Brown told him he was acquainted with a telephone operator whose duty it was to relay and dispatch messages to the main office to brokerage.

He told me that it was within his power to hold up messages for four to twelve minutes, so no one with money could profit by the act thru making bets on race results and the stock market," Kasherick told police.

They were taken to the brokerage house where they were impressed by the elaborate decorations in the room.

They were introduced to a cashier, who was apparently transacting negotiations on a huge scale. The man told Kasherick and the two that they would be given credit of $1,000, Kasherick said.

Kasherick said his brother-in-law,

HAVE KIDNEYS EXAMINED BY YOUR DOCTOR

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys if Back Pains You or Bladder Bothers

For your kidneys by drinking a glass of water each day, also take occasionally, says a noted authority, he tells us that too much acid forms acids which almost burn the kidneys in their efforts to get rid of the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you suffer with a dull misery in the region of the kidneys, sharp pains in the back, headache, dizziness, your tongue is coated, and the weather is bad, you have to urinate frequently. The urine gets a tint of sediment, the channels are sore and irritated, obliterating to some relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids help cleanse the kidneys and wash off the body's uric wastes, take two ounces of Jad Salts from the pharmacy here, take a tablet and in a glass of water before you go to bed for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This Jad Salt is made from the acid of citric and lemon juice, combined with rhubarb, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

was given $500 credit, and all started to invest on Brown's tip.

They soon learned that they were betting on horse races instead of stocks. After pocketing their resources, their winnings netted $2,000 the second day; $10,000 each the third day.

On the fourth day they put checks for $5,000. Their winnings were supposed to have been $167,000, Kashmerick said. The cashier demanded they cash their $58,000 checks before he paid them the winnings, he said. They went back to Boswell and raised $45,000 from friends. Then Brown persuaded them to place their money with Burdette on one race. The telegraph operator had told them that he was to be moved the next day. That day the supposed telegraph operator made a mistake and they were told by Brown their money was gone.

While they were in the brokerage office the telegraph operator was brought into the room in handcuffs by a man the victim supposed to be a detective. The cashier then informed them they had lost all their winnings on the last bet. The "brokers" closed their office that day and left town.

Drucker was acquitted of a similar wire-tapping scheme in Buffalo in 1921, by Michael Connelly, of Montreal, lost $125,000 in 1918.

DIFFICULTY WITH POLICE

NEW YORK — Shortly after word was received from Youngstown, Ohio, that Jules W. (Nicky) Arnstein, whose jail sentence for complicity in a $5,000,000 bond theft, was upheld in Washington Tuesday, was wanted there for an alleged wire tapping swindle, Arnstein was in difficulty with the police there.

He was arrested for violation of automobile parking rule, starting a row with police when he insisted on arresting Arnstein's wife, Fannie Brice, Follett girl, when she stopped her car in a forbidden space.

Arnstein was discharged when arraigned in night court, and was not arrested on the Ohio charge because it had not been notified of it. He was being sought in Washington.

The company announced that there were 710,494 telephones in California, an increase of 62,455 in ten months. This means, according to the report, 18 telephones for each 100 of the population.

Incidentally the company's statistical survey indicated that the average California family had increased in size from an average of 4.8 persons in 1890 to 2.8 in 1924.

The population of the state today is estimated at close to 4,000,000. The company predicts that by 1940 it will exceed 8,000,000. In 1890 California was twenty-third among the states; in 1920 it was eighth. The company's property places it as fourth or fifth in 1920 and is second only to New York within 10 years.

HORSES SURVIVING AGE OF MOTORS

Animals Still Performing 97 Percent of Field Work

SANFRANCISCO.—In this age of motors there still is a consistent demand for horses, according to an announcement made here by the Horse Association of America.

The statement says the horse, man's servant and companion for countless generations, is continuing to adapt itself to conditions as they

"Market demands" adds the association, "are for the very heavy draft horses, or for the heaviest of the light horses, while the demand for mules is tending more and more for the heavier type. Race horses that can win are sought, ones that cannot are discarded. Horses that possess symmetry and quality command high prices when well schooled."

Production of the lighter type of horses is being curtailed, it is stated, while the heavier horses stated are being raised in large quantities.

There are more than 25,000,000 horses in the United States, 17,000,000 actual.

FRENCH IN HURRY FOR NEW NAVY

Paris to Rush Plans Formed Under Washington Pact

PARIS—(Associated Press)—When France completes the reduction of the first section of her naval program, elaborated in conformity with the Washington disarmament agreement, the fleet of the republic will consist of nine battleships, 14 cruisers, 60 torpedo boats and destroyers, 40 and 64 submarines. This will be done by the spring of 1926. Of the nine battleships, however, two are now obsolete and are not even today carried in the parliamentary reports as effective weapons of offense. Six of the 14 cruisers will have passed the age limit and 17 torpedo boats and destroyers are admitted by naval experts to be unequal to the task that would be allotted to them in present naval warfare. Twenty of the submarines which saw service during the late war, according to a parliamentary report, would be useless.

France could bring into line for effective naval operations seven battleships, eight cruisers, 43 torpedo boats and destroyers and 45 submarines.

Marine Flaminus Rabat, expressing his conviction that a reduced fleet would be unable to ensure the security of France's naval frontiers and the safety of its naval lines of communication, recently introduced a bill in the Chamber, asking authorization to proceed immediately to the second section of the program, as agreed upon at Washington.

The bill provides for the construction of six cruisers of 10,000 tons, 10 destroyers of 2,400 tons, 20 torpedo boats of 1,450 tons, 20 submarines of 3,000 tons, 10 submarines of the first class of 1,000 tons each, two mine sweepers of 4,000 tons and four tankers of 10,000 tons each. According to the government's program work on the various units was to commence in January, 1925, and be completed in 1929.

French Naval Denise secretary of the naval commission of the chamber, in his report made to the government, said that "owing to the present condition of the French Navy, the entire program must be delayed between 1924 and 1929."

The bill was amended by naval commission will come up for discussion during the present session within a few weeks after naval chamber meets next May. It may incur an expenditure of 200,000,000 francs, which the present budget is not available to saddle.

U. S. TAXICABS FIND GOOD FIELD IN BUENOS AIRES

BUENOS AIRES—An American taxicab concern which operates large fleets of taxicabs in New York and other cities, sent a dozen of its vehicles to Buenos Aires a few months ago, and has found the enterprise profitable despite the fact that taxi fares are far cheaper than specimen.

in New York, and the price of gasoline is higher.

The cars are reported to have made a net profit of $600 pesos each a month, or about $275 at current exchange rates. American visitors to Buenos Aires say taxi fares are so cheap here that the people use them more, hence the profits.

Buenos Aires taximeters, regulated by municipal ordinance and that taxi fares are far cheaper than specimen, are set at 80 centavos for

GEORGE D. GROVES DIED THURSDAY

Death Comes on Night He Was to Have Spoken Here

George Donovan Groves, Troy, O., whose illness caused cancellation of a speaking engagement here this week, died Thursday in Cleveland.

Word of Groves' death came to friends here Thursday night. He was taken ill Tuesday with appendicitis, calling off an address which he was to have given here Thursday night before the Lima Y's Men's club.

An operation for appendicitis at Lakeside hospital, Cleveland, proved unavailing and Groves died Thursday morning.

Groves was well known in Lima, having addressed the Lion's club a number of times in the past year.
He was head of the state civilian rehabilitation service, the local work of this service being handled by the Lions club. He was also governor of all the Y's Men's clubs in Ohio.

Groves received his A. B. degree from Ohio Wesleyan university in 1922. In 1922 he was given his M.

A. degree at Ohio state. He starred in football and basketball at Wesleyan, where he played with "Bob" Young, coach of St. Rose H.

Funeral services for Groves will be held Saturday at 11:30 a.m. in Troy.

T. O. Shreeves, president of the Lima "Y's" Men's club and T. R.

Alexander, membership sec.etary of the Y. M. C. A., will attend. Groves was a close friend of Alexander.

SULPHUR CLEARS ROUGH, RED SKIN

Face, Neck and Arms Easily Made
Smooth, Says Specialist

Any breaking out of the skin, even dry, itching, eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Men-tho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Men-tho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream. adv

FOUR WIVES HELD AS TOO MANY

Ban May be Placed on the Harem in Turkey

SHORTAGE OF WOMEN FACED

Parliamentary Board Asks Polygamy be Prohibited

ANGORA — Ascented Presses Polygamy and the harem may disappear from Turkey if the recommendations made by the Turkish parliamentary committee are adopted by the national assembly. On the grounds of economy, and because of the growing scarcity of married women, leaders of the committee believe that the modern Turks should be content with one wife. They believe that in case men would be inclined to have the four wives permitted by the Koran there would not be sufficient women in Turkey to make possible one wife for every man.

The committee recommends that the government to women the right to divorce, as well as giving them recourse to the law courts for separation procedure. Instead of the present no fault divorce, the husband has only to accuse the wife of "adultery" and say "Bereave" and the wife is cast adrift.

The so-called "reformer" of enormous numbers of modern divorce will be voted by deputies when the project comes before the assembly. It is certain to meet with determined opposition by peasants, to whom four wives, which is the maximum number allowed by the Prophet Mohammed, may be often a source of wealth because they are all forced to work on the farm.

TOO EXPENSIVE. The modern Turk of the city find it impossible to maintain such a harem because he has learned that Turkish women of the better class are fond of expensive dresses and pretty things, silk stockings, for three or four wives cost a lot of money. He has also found that if a man takes more than one wife, he must take three. It is impossible, he says, because they quarrel all the time and the husband is bound to be unhappy; such will be him to take her side and there will be no peace in the house.

But with three wives, it is explained there is harmony because the wives keep them quarreling to themselves, and if one becomes too strong the other two will unite against her.

Again, it is asserted, the modern Turk of education is very little influenced by the religion of his forefathers. Priding himself on his western ideas and education, he is content to leave his wavering belief in the laws of the Koran to the untaught masses and the peasants.

Finally, there has been a great change in the status of Turkish women since Mustapha Kemal built up the new Turkey. They now go about unveiled, speak to foreigners, ride on streetcars and appear at public dances. Most of them are well educated and read American and French novels. Only recently a young Turkish priest named Ibrahim Efendi was arrested for publishing a pamphlet against the emancipation of women and the abolition of the harem. The public prosecutor demanded that he be sentenced to two years imprisonment for obstructing the application of liberal laws.

CREPE REQUESTED IN RESPECT TO WILSON

DEAD MAN COULD HOLD JOB, LEGISLATOR SAYS AS BLIND CANDIDATE LOSES

JACKSON, Miss. — The Mississippi house of representatives, in organizing for the legislative session now in progress, almost scored the right of something or other by "coming within a hair's breadth" of electing a blind man as one of its two doorkeepers.

Doorkeepers in a modern legislative assembly are about as useful as a parachute to a Jaybird, but every assembly must have them, and in Mississippi it is the custom to bestow the sinecures upon Confederate veterans. There were seven candidates for the two jobs when Representative John Collins, of Johnson, placed in nomination the name of Mr. Cox.

"He is blind," explained Mr. Collins, "but the duties of a doorkeeper are such that a blind man could perform them easily."

Representative Jesse Austin Adams, of Montgomery, Miss., bluntly seconded the nomination. "The things that are easy for you who can see," Adams declared, "are difficult for those who are blind. But the blind ask no odds of anyone."

There was only one direct protest against electing a sightless man to guard the portals of the House. It was from Representative John K. Stevens, of Kemper.

"The gentlemen are right in declaring that a blind man could discharge the duties of a doorkeeper in the house of representatives," said he. "In fact, a dead man could do it. I move the office of doorkeeper be abolished."

There was no second to Stevens' motion and balloting began. Cox, the sightless man, polled the high vote on the first ballot and remained in the lead until the seven candidates had been weeded down to three. On the final ballot he was eliminated.

WIFE MURDERER DIES IN CHAIR

Cadiz Man is Electrocuted at Ohio Penitentiary

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press)

—After spending 12 hours in a state of extreme nervousness, Mike Sipich, 56, of Cadiz, appeared calm and collected early today as he stepped into the death chamber at the Ohio penitentiary and sat down in the electric chair to pay the penalty for the murder of his wife at their home in Cadiz.

Four minutes after he entered the room he was pronounced dead. But one application of current was necessary.

Sipich, according to prison records, was the first Harrison-co man to be executed at the prison.

LIMA BEANE'S OPEN LETTERS

To James M. Cox

DEAR JIM: Events of the last week have made it imperative that you step forward and assume the leadership of the Democratic party. Already a general demand has started and you will be receiving urgent pleas from every section ere long.

I was for you to the last ditch in 1920. I'm for you now as the Democratic standard bearer this year. In my humble estimation you are the logical man for the job and I know you will not shrink if you consider it a duty and it becomes that, I believe.

Will you kindly give this matter your earnest consideration and advise me as to your views?

LIMA BEANE

To My School Board

GENTLEMEN: Have any of you visited Lowell school on any of the recent days when the warm sun was thawing the ground? If you haven't, will you please visit that building and take a look at the playground the first warm day?

I have noticed and have been told by parents of children going to that building that when it is thawing the children become covered with mud if they attempt to play. I have in mind the welfare of the boys and girls when I suggest that you do something to get rid of the mud. Please do not delay the matter longer than necessary.

LIMA BEANE

To City Hall

BOYS. I long since have fallen into the habit of placing any tales concerning the improvement of Main-st in the category of fairy stories, but I think it is about time to spin another one. At least tell us what you have in mind for the public disgrace this summer. Break it to us gently, please.

LIMA BEANE

To The Locomotive Works

DEAR LOCO. Your order for 35 locomotives was one of the most optimistic hits of news I have read this winter. With stories of crime, scandal and tragedy burning up the wires these days, it was refreshing to learn of something happening which is a self-evident boost to the community.

LIMA BEANE

To the Family Welfare League

DEAR FRIENDS: You have my best wishes for the success of your efforts to procure $10,000 to carry on your most laudable and quite essential work. I hope that when the campaign is over no one will have cause to say that our people have been derelict in their duty toward those of their number who are victims of misfortune and for whose relief your organization is maintained.

LIMA BEANE

To John Dawson

DEAR JOHN: I congratulate you on some quick, straight and effective shooting. I commend your nerve, preparedness and alertness to all of our citizens. A few more examples such as yours and the holdup game won't be so popular in Lima.

LIMA BEANE

To Boy Scouts

DEAR SCOUTS: You have a lot of fine things in your organization, but your recent court of honor commends itself to me as a particularly praiseworthy feature of your endeavors. I congratulate those of you who received the honors and trust you will conduct yourselves in the future in such a manner as to prove that those honors went where they belong.

To the many others of you who have been

MANY DRAWN TO FOREIGN TRADE

Thousands of Students Trained in Special Courses

INDUCEMENTS ARE OFFERED

Exporters and Manufacturers Enlisted in Work

NEW YORK.—(Associated Press)—A rapidly increasing number of Americans is becoming foreign trade as a result of the educational work of the National Foreign Trade Council, in order to encourage this direction, and foreign trade being an ignorance on the part of the committee is giving special educational section with the annual meeting of the council at Boston.

Committee has circularized 120 universities in the country which have foreign business courses, inviting teacher and student to the convention. Also steps to call the attention of importers, exporters, and others engaged in trade to the need of employment, both who show interest in foreign trade as a career.

COLLEGiate COURSES.—A compilation, not long ago, of college courses in foreign training in 52 colleges with a total student enrollment in all relating to this type of work 12,202 with 4,973 students in a number of 6,746 studying foreign work as a major. A more recent compilation showed 63 institutions in commerce and finance and subjects and 2,787 students studying foreign work as a minor.

An analysis of these figures indicates the number of students engaged in training for foreign business services. The above figures include those who intend to enter the commercial foreign service work of the United States government, as well as those investigating foreign departments. The numbers have been increased eight fold since 1914. Frank Murphy, chairman of the committee, said recently: "We have built up a vast and varied technique for our students. We must now do the same for foreign trade. For this we must submit to training. Foreign trade is a profession, it can be learned by study and exper-

CALIFORNIA GROWS "TURKISH" TOBACCO
NEW YORK.—Gowers of San Francisco in California have extended the scope of their business until now they deal in product form the time it is made into cigarettes and on the market. The growth of this industry is in a paper issued by the agricultural experiment station at the city of California. Growing of Turkish tobacco was begun in California about 25 years ago. But because of imperfect curing and difficulty of marketing the business has not until about ten years ago been in a position to grow. The growers came to realize they could obtain a better return by selling the manufacturing facilities and only in 1922 a company was organized to handle California "Turkish" tobacco. The market is now finding a ready sale product.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Colonel Holles, soldier and adventurer, returns to England, the land of his birth, when he is declared with Holland. He agrees to lodge with Martha Quinn, hostess of the Earl of Paul's Yard, London. He secures an audience with his old friend, His Grace of Albermarle. The colonel cordially and tells him that real soldiers are greatly needed to make necessary. Holles offers his services to his country and asks that His Grace be named his father. The colonel is in the warrant for the execution of his son. It is dangerous for the colonel to assume an army command.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Millions was a cat he dropped to earth on the wall's hither side, and stood here half-pushing, a smile on his young lips and laughter in his gray eyes. Here was a young girl who—utterly unconscious of his presence—swept him from the air on a swing that was formed of a single rope passed around the tree to another. Millions was a child, no more; yet of a well-grown, lissom grace that defied his giving her more than the bare fifteen years she counted to her age. Hers was no rose-and-lily complexion. She displayed the healthy tan that comes of a life lived in the open far away from cities. Yet one look at the long-shaped, deeply blue eyes that were the glory of her face sufficed to warn you that the rustic she was not simple. Here was one who possessed a full share of that feminine guile which is the birthright from Mother Eve to her favored daughters. If you were a man you would be most wary when she was most demure.

Now swinging now, her loosened brown hair streaming behind her as she went back and forth, and tossed itself into a cloud about her face as she went back.

And the song was nearly as possible in rhythm with her swinging.

Ho, young love! Ho, young love!

While here I stay for you

Waiting to marry.

Ho, young love! Ho, young love.

The song ended in a scream. Unheard, unsuspected, the strapping had come forward thru the trees. At the top of her backward swing he had caught her about the waist in his strong young arms. There was a moment's clatter of two black legs amid an agitated cloud of petticoat, then the nymph was lost in the arms of her young lover. But only for a moment. Out of that grip she broke in a fury—real or pretended—and came to earth breathing with flushed cheeks and gasping.

You give yourself strange names, young Randal," said she, and fixed her eyes. "Who bade you here?"

I thought you called me," said he grinning, no whit abashed by either look or look. "Come now, Nan. Confess it!"

I called you?" She laughed merrily. "Tis very likely! Oh, very likely!"

You'll deny it, of course, being a woman in the making. But I heard it. And he quoted her, singing,

Ho, young love! Ho, young love!

Where do you tarry?"

I was hiding on the other side of the wall. I came at once. And all I got for my pains and the risk to a fairly new pair of breeches is a blow to MARRY ME."

And a denial!"

You may get more if you remain."

I hope so. I had not come else."

For it's a little to your liking."

That's as may be. Meanwhile there's this matter of a blow. Now a blow is a thing I take from nobody. For a man there is my sword . . .

Your sword?" She abandoned herself to laughter. "And you don't even own a penknife!"

Oh yes, I do. I own a sword. It was a gift from my father today—a birthday gift. I am nineteen today, Nan."

How fast you grow! You'll be a man soon. And so your father has given you a sword?" She leaned against the bole of a tree, and surveyed him archly. "That was very rash of your father. You'll be cutting yourself, I know."

He smiled, but with a little less of his earlier assurance. But he made a fair recovery.

You are straying from the point."

The point of your sword, sweet sir?"

The point of my discourse. It was concerning this matter of a blow. You were a man I am afraid I should have to kill you. My honor would demand less."

With your sword, of course?"

Ugh. Jack the Giant-Killer in a cherry orchard! You must see you out of place here. Get you gone, boy. I don't think I ever liked you, I do. Now I'm sure of it. You're a bloody-minded fellow for all your years. What you'll be when you're a man . . . I daren't think."

He swallowed the taunt.

And what you'll be when you're a woman is the thing I delight in. Well, return to that. Meanwhile, this blow . . .

Oh, you're tiresome."

You delay me. That is why. What I would do to a man who struck me have told you."

But you can't think I believe you."

This time he was not to be turned aside.

The real question is what to do to a woman." He approached her.

I look at you, one punishment only seems possible."

It took her by the shoulders in a grip of surprising firmness. There was a sharp alarm in those eyes of hers that hitherto had been so mocking.

Randal!" she cried out, guessing his purpose.

I inferred he accomplished it. Having kissed her, he loosed his hold, and back for the explosion which from his knowledge of her he was expect. But no explosion came. She stood limply before him, all the life gone out of her, whilst slowly the color faded from her cheeks. Then it was flowing back in an all-suffusing flood, and there was a pathetic smile at the corners of her mouth, a suspicious brightness in her drooping eyes.

Wily, Nan!" he cried, alarmed by phenomena so unexpected and unusual.

Oh why did you do that?" she cried on a sob.

I've been wanting to do it this twelfth month," said he simply. "And I want to do it again. Nan, dear, don't you know how much I love you?"

Don't you know without my telling you? Don't you?"

The fervent question chased away her trouble and summoned surprise to its place. A moment she stared at him, and her glance hardened. She knew to show signs of recovery.

The declaration should have preceded the . . . the . . . affront."

I love you, Nan! I've said so," he expostulated.

You're too precious, young Randal. It comes, I suppose, of being a boy to play with. I shall have to speak to your father about it.

And manners more than a sword at present.

Randal was skilled in the art of punishing. But the lad refused to be put of countenance.

Dear, I'm asking you to marry me!"

I jumped at that. Her eyes dilated. "Lord!" she said. "What con-

But if you think I want a child tied to my apron-strings?"

It's going away, Nan—tomorrow, very early. I came to say goodbye."

Her eyes flickered, and in that moment a discerning glance would tell a gleam of alarm from her blue eyes. But there was no hint of voice.

What you said was to marry me you came."

I will you be teasing me? It means so much to me, Nan. I want that you'll wait for me; that you'll marry me some day."

I have caught her by the shoulders again. But she eluded me. I didn't tell her where you are going."

I'm going to London, to the army. My father has procured me a house, and I am to serve under General Monk, who is his friend."

An impression, she did not give him the satisfaction of great that impression was. As it was, the surprise of it left her looking at him in a new wonder. He took advantage of it to approach her. He caught her to him, taking her unawares this time and seizing her before she could elude him.

My dear!"

Struggled in his arms. But he held her firmly. She struggled the finding her struggle ineffectual, her temper rose. He hands her breast she thrust him back.

Release me at once! Release me, or I'll scream!"

At the anger in her voice, he let her go, and stood sheepishly, whilst she retreated a few paces from him, breathing quickly, her hands clasped behind her back.

Give me, Nan!" He was in a passion of penitence, fearing that he had gone too far and angered her in earnest. "Ah, don't be it our last day together for Heaven knows how long."

I should mend your manners," she reproved him by way of command.

Why so I will. It's only that I want you so; that I'm going away—that after today I won't see you again maybe for years. If ye we don't care for me at all, why, then I don't think that I'll come back to Rutherford ever. But if ye are—be it never so little, Nan—if I wait for me, it'll send me away with a good heart, it'll give me strength the one great I'll conquer the world for you, my dear!" he ended grandly, as in the way of youth in its unbounded confidence. "I'll bring back—see it in your lap."

Her eyes were shining. His devotion and enthusiasm touched her. But mischievous perversity must be dissembling it. She laughed on a raised inflection that was faintly mocking.

UNDERWORLD NIGHTS

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN

NO. 11—BUSINESS BEFORE PLEASURE

"BUSINESS BEFORE PLEASURE, YOU KNOW"

Directly across town in the East Side are the hangouts of gangsters of another type. They are the gunmen, from whose ranks some of the greatest figures in all mobdom have arisen—Lefty Louie, Kid Dropper, and a host of others. They are scattered all over—in restaurants, club rooms, candy stores and flats. But their chief joint is the pool-room.

In a basement, heavy with smoke and lined with on-lookers, are the gangsters at play. They scarcely look up from their tables yet they seem to see and hear everything. A footstep unknown causes a stir, but it doesn't stop the game. It just changes its pace.

A few words of greeting, and exchange of names, and I was invited to sit down.

Next to me sat a youngster, hardly over 22, swarthy in appearance and not bad looking. He was sitting around swapping stories with an older man who had just got back from Sing Sing.

The police have been looking for this boy for more than a year. He bent down to kiss me and I found he had been drinking.

"Jack, you promised me you would get me out of here," he said smiling. "Business before pleasure, you know."

So he went on whispering with his more experienced companion—getting a line on a new enterprise.

He apologized for not talking much to me.

Business before pleasure, you know."

He did not get any further.

I don't care a damn what Ruth says, I thought. I told you it would be very much against my will if you ever spoke to her again.

If you will remember, Jack, I told you will not give up Ruth if you do not care what Ruth says, you probably will care to know that Ruth insists you pay her that six thousand dollars of hers that you have in your possession at the present moment.

The money is still hers. It mine he replied quickly.

What reason have you for it?

You know very well that could not set six thousand dollars worth of women's lingerie in one day.

Well, she sold over eight thousand dollars worth today.

Then she had better be paying some of her husband's debts.

Ruth Ellington is under no obligation to pay her husband's debts.

He left her without a cent, and when he left he took another woman with him. Don't you think he treated her worse than he treated you?

She is a very wonderful woman, and she says,

I tell you I won't hear what that woman says.

You will have to, Jack, for what she says is you will not only to our happiness but to your reputation.

WARDEN REFUSES TO KILL FIVE

Negroes Put to Death at State Penitentiary

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. — (Associated Press) — While Walter Monroe Miller, new warden at the Texas penitentiary here, was officiating at the electrocution of five negroes early today, the former warden, R. F. Coleman, peacefully slept at his home here because he chose to follow the dictates of his conscience. He resigned as warden last month when it became known that he would have to act as executioner in all death sentences in Texas.

It was searched for a successor. Miller, former sheriff of Jefferson, was finally decided upon. He accepted in time to assume his duties which prescribed that he shall throw the switch at all electric deaths.

"It couldn't be done, boys," former Warden Coleman told news-

"A warden can't be a warden and a killer. The penitentiary is a place to form a man not to kill him."

But warden Miller, it was his case of duty with me," he said. "I have hanged several men who I was shamed to touch the switch or pull the switch of an electric chair means no more to me than pulling a lever of the gallows. At the end it's more human—the

ST. MARY'S HENS MAKE JANUARY LAYING RECORD

ST. MARY'S — A record of 329 eggs during a cold winter month is the achievement of Councilman John Abe's flock of 15 brown leghorns.

Mrs. Abe, chief caretaker of the poultry on the Abe place, kept count and is positive of the accuracy of the record which was made during January.

Two of the flock were hatched a year ago at the Abe premises from a brood of which the other 21 were roosters.

At the rate of 329 eggs in one month the flock would average 22 eggs per hen per month or 264 for a year puts the whole flock in the "utility" class. The hens' vacation period would of course bring down somewhat the year's total.

When it is considered that the average hen in the general run of flocks over the country where the owner just "keeps chickens" averages about 80 eggs per year the importance of the record made by the Abe flock grows.

Hens on the big commercial poultry farms must lay 120 eggs in a year or go to the market and thousands of them hit the 200 mark and a few go over 300. The world's champion egg-laying hen, it is said had 343 eggs in one year.

'No More Headache For Me' Says Spring St. Woman

Mr. E. Lorch of 134½ West Spring St., a well known citizen of Lima, in speaking with Mr. Jaxon recently regarding his medicine, Pepgen, Mr. Lorch said:

"Your medicine Pepgen has been of great benefit to me. I am glad to recommend it to the people of Lima."

For a long time I had been bothered with frequent headache. Recently they became more severe and would come on me more often. They got so bad that I would have to go to bed and stay there for several days.

"I tried to take it, but it caused me to feel hot and out of order. At my next visit I would have pains again. I went to a doctor and he told me to take my medicine and he did. I took it and the headache would stop. When it came again I would take it again. They would commence right in the back of my head and at the base of my brain and I could I would be in agony."

"During one of the attacks I started taking Pepgen. I find it in 'The Lima News' where it had helped others. It is a wonder to me how many people in Lima I have seen take it. I have never seen any one get well on it."

"While I was taking Pepgen to my doctor I began taking it too. I was not sure if you would fall sick but I took it and had the same feeling. In the

Many of Lima's Oldest Citizens Unite in Recommending Pepgen; Famous Remedy Now Being Introduced at Hunter Drug Stores

W. E. Jaxon, Who Is Now at Hunter's Explaining Uses of Pepgen, Receives Hundreds of Letters, Signed Statements And Verbal Endorsements From Citizens of Lima And Surrounding Towns

Sometimes I would wake up sick all worn out and I would often have a sort of a dull headache and white coated tongue. My breath didn't taste right. Pepgen has done the work for me too. I have a fine appetite and wake up in the morning feeling fresh and ready for the day's work. My appetite is wonderful.

I am glad to recommend Pepgen for you see we have given it a good trial and know it to be a wonderful medicine.

Mother Says: 'I Am Glad To Recommend Pepgen, It Helped My Son'

Mr. Jesse Bahler of 144½ South Main Street in an interview recently at Hunter's Drug Store on the Public Square could not say enough for the medicine Pepgen, now being introduced there by W. S. Jaxon.

"Pepgen put my boy on his feet," said Mrs. Kahl, "it is a wonderful medicine."

"My son Ray has been complaining for some time on account of pains across his back. He couldn't sleep good at night but would have to get up frequently during the night. When it came time to get up in the morning he was just all worn out. He would complain of having a dull heavy headache, and his tongue would be all white and coated. He wouldn't eat hardly anything for breakfast. I hated to see him eat the day off without eating any breakfast but it seemed like I couldn't fix nothing to suit him. At night when he came home he was just all tired."

"I got lots of different kinds of medicine for him but none of them seemed to do him much good. His kidneys, kept on getting worse and worse."

"About two weeks ago I heard about this Pepgen and went down and got a bottle at Hunter's Drug Store.

"It has certainly been the thing for Ray. Before he had the first bottle he said he fell ill. He has now been taking Pepgen for a little over three weeks in Lima and he is in better health than he has been in the past two years. He says the pains in his back are gone. He now sleeps the whole night through and never has his rest disturbed."

"I am more than glad to recommend this medicine because of the good it has done my son. The genuine Pepgen is packed in a white, blue and gold casket and is obtainable in Lima only at Hunter's Drug Store, 49 Public Square and Main and Wayne Streets and the Arkstone Store."

last practice will be held Thursday evening by Central high basket ball team on the school's basketball court. The team's coach, Kenton will come to Central gymnasium Saturday while the second team will be at Kenton.

Signs, such as signal practice and basket shooting, convinced Coach Fischer that his girls are in the best of physical condition and ready to go for Friday evening.

Central, which has a lot of experience and is comparatively small, entered the competition with 11 players. All the girls are good, but a win will be hard to get. Last night's reports from Kenton indicated that the girls had a good time. In fact, they had a great time.

AS A MATTER OF FACT

Being a Criticism of the Past and the Present in the World of Professional and Amateur Sports
by HARVEY BRADBURY

What of the New York Giants and the National League pennant for 1924? Is John McGraw going to stand pat on the team as it stands? The end of the month will see the first move of major leaguers toward spring training camps. Is the Napoleon of baseball ready and willing to trust his pitching staff to win a fourth straight pennant, believing that they have still enough reserve force left? There are many baseball experts that hold the opinion that if he does win another pennant, it will not be because his team is strong, but because the others are weak.

The Giants are not fortified for a hard fight. That is certain.

But the old problem that a team of veterans pulling together will win more games than a team of stars may be fulfilled in this case, but what of the team of stars pulling together? What then? It is certain that Pat Moran has the class of usefulness in the American league.

Dissatisfaction is often cause for mediocre skill, and again all pitchers seem to have off seasons. It is certain, however, that he has sufficient force left with his "submarine" delivery to allow a few National League leaders for a spell. He's an asset to the Reds' pitching staff.

Carl Mays, the stormy petrel to his star, it might be right, or it might be wrong, because there are so many precedents for or against where he has run the gamut of usefulness in the American league.

But Moran took the old saw that an ounce of prevention is worth a ton of cure, and nailed

THE strongest bill that has played the Faurot for a long while, opened Thursday afternoon. From start to finish there is not a dull moment. The opening act Booth & Nina proved very interesting. Booth does some stunts with a bicycle that come as near being hair-raising as anything in the way of acrobatics should, that sits comfortably on one's nervous system. This is followed by the Gene Oliver trio who splice a bit of sense and nonsense very cleverly. Goss and Barrows fill in with a talking and singing act which certainly met public approval. Presumably Barrows is the female part act, and it is only proper to say that she is quite clever. She lifts the comedy into the most acceptable position, while her partner helps sustain it. Their act was received by continuous rounds of laughter. It is certain that they will become prime favorites before their engagement shall have ended.

But the real comedy, the funny fellow of the whole bill who is, who ever he is, with the team of Echert and Francis. There have been far worse comedians with popular high priced attractions than this fellow.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Old John Benotto, who served the last 15 of his 70 years in Marmette-penitentiary, and who was paroled last June, is going back to Michigan to resume serving his sentence of 39 years big. Judgment over penitentiary of 31 years was paroled on condition that he re-
